

Dear Valued and Future Customers:

For almost 40 years, Sabre has been supplying the telecommunications industry with exceptional products and customer service. This year, we are taking that service to the next level by providing you with this new online components catalog.

Featuring 1300 products, Sabre Site Solutions' new online catalog offers everything you need to complete your projects successfully. We've added 400 new accessories including cable and OEM accessories; 6 newly-developed low-profile platforms in both HC and HD versions; and our latest HC and HD V-Booms, built specifically for today's technology.

In addition to an increased product line, Sabre's new online catalog has several features that help make the ordering process fast and easy. One of the more popular, is the ability to build and save a shopping list of common items. You no longer need to reenter every item each time you place an order; you can just fill in the quantity and add anything special. If you already have the items on an excel spreadsheet, you can upload it to your shopping cart. Another time-saving feature is the ability to save and name purchased lists for future reference.

Sabre was built on a commitment to customer service, and we've developed this online catalog with your needs in mind. If there is something you have to have but cannot find on this site, please contact one of our customer service representatives. We will work with you to make sure you have all the components necessary to meet your project requirements.

We thank you for your continued business, and look forward to serving you in the future.

Sincerely,
